

Recruitment Orientations

What can I expect?

Attend one of the following orientations/workshops

Becoming an officer of the California Highway Patrol will be physically and mentally challenging. To assist interested candidates in the application process, Valley Division hosts the following seminar/workshops.

Applicant Seminar - This seminar is designed to give applicants who have completed the written test an outline of what to expect for the remainder of the application process. Recruiters and background investigators provide vital information to assist in the success of each applicant. Family members are welcome. No small children please.

QAP Workshop - This is a group workshop designed to assist applicants in the Qualification Appraisal Panel (QAP) or oral interview portion of the application phase.
